Shipping Information: Earlier this year, 2007, all the major shipping providers raised their shipping rates. The post office also changed their system from weight only to package size and shape and put weight limits on their flat rate boxes. The result is that any shipping cost is decided by weight, package dimensions and shape, and destination. We had one package, weighing 1lb, which cost $12.00 to ship. We don't charge a handling fee. Needless to say shipping has become a bit of a nightmare.

Here is the new system we have come up with to try and make it fair for all customers. If you are ordering with a check, please include 20% shipping. If the 20% doesn't cover the shipping cost we will bill you for the balance. If you are ordering with a credit card, please expect to be charged for the actual shipping cost. If you need a copy of the shipping invoice, please request it with your order.
